CC BOE members make more hires that to fully staff transportation department

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Board of Education met Thursday evening, Dec. 9, for its regular monthly meeting, and personnel recommendations made by the superintendent brought some good news for the system's transportation department.

Prior to making her personnel recommendations to the board, Superintendent Kelly Cobb said with the recommendations she would be making at the meeting, the transportation department would be fully staffed for the first time in over two years. She said this was an exciting announcement to make because everyone knows how difficult it is to get bus drivers these days.

Currently, the superintendent said New Brockton Schools have 17 bus routes, Zion Chapel has nine bus routes, and Kinston School has four bus routes.

"We are running around 30 buses every day," Cobb said. "With tonight's hires, if we can maintain this, we will be in a much stronger place with our transportation department overall than we have been in a while."

In making the personnel recommendation to the board, two additional bus drivers were hired during last Thursday night's meeting. James Starks and Anthony Fulmer were hired as bus drivers for the school system.

Other personnel actions recommended by Cobb and approved by the board included

- Approval of a resignation from Madeline Bemiss Levasseur, a teacher at New Brockton High School;

- Approval of the employment of Shelby Turner, teacher at Zion Chapel Elementary School;

- Approval of the resignation of Rebecca Green, secretary/bookkeeper at New Brockton Elementary School;

- Approval of the transfer of Greg Lee from 11-month custodian contract to 10-month custodian contract;

- Approval of the transfer

"A good listener is a good talker with a sore throat."
- Katharine Whitehorn

Even at our age it is not uncommon to still stumble over the meaning of words. Last weekend we were reading an opinion piece by a British editor and stumbled over the word "Defenestration." We guessed the meaning due to the subject and the follow up sentence but decided to find out for sure. It is definitely not a new word however it was new to us. From Wikipedia we got, "Defenestration is the act of throwing someone or something out of a window. The term was coined around the time of an incident in Prague Castle in the year 1618, which became the spark that started the Thirty Years' War. That was all confirmed by Webster's. In the article we were reading it meant an editor of another British publication was promptly fired following a hot news flash claiming some sort of wrongdoings. Rather than trying to impress readers with his dictionary brain, we wish he had considered us average Joes and said "fired".

Zoom has been involved in a lawsuit claiming they didn't protect privacy as their website claimed. They continue to deny the charges but have agreed to a settlement with Zoom subscribers. After jumping through a bunch of hoops you "might" get either $25 or $15. However, the lawyers who filed the suit are eligible can get up to $21,250,000 in fees! That is millions and the folks who were potentially harmed will get $15 or $25 each! We don't know how many lawyers will dip into that sizeable pot but Zoom users in Elba who may have had their information compromised are on the wrong side of that equation!

Part of the "Build Back Better" plan being debated in Washington would stop the Pell Grant program for college students attending private-sector career colleges. Of course their leaders and their lobbying crowd are up in arms. Their numbers indicate it would impact over 26,000 Alabama students to the tune of over $14 million. That sounds bad on the surface but remember it was just a short time ago that the headlines were full of examples of those 'colleges' being rip offs with students getting little or no educational benefits from the school... even the small percentage who actually completed the course study. Thus, we have no problem with that decision and hope they will double down a goal of steadily improving the 'tried and true' already successful educational institutions all across America.

The annual Elba Christmas parade was postponed a week due to the rain last week, but it didn't appear to have dampened the parade once it was cranked off this Monday night. The participants all seemed to be enjoying themselves, even the little ones riding the floats. The number of floats in the parade seemed to be much greater than any, at least in any recent year. Spectators were also in abundance. If any doubt, just walk the parade route and observe the empty candy wrappers all along the route! We Americans leave our tracks wherever we go.

Be safe, wear your mask, social distance, wash your hands AND get the shot(s) and/or booster!

The Lake Realty and Elzey & Fillingim Attorneys at Law float received the "Best Float" award for the Elba Christmas Parade. Employees and family members from each business were represented on this winning float.

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Want to know 'exactly' how Sister feels about 6-8 lane traffic in a big city during less than stellar weather conditions...just ride with her through Atlanta, Georgia under those circumstances. Cuzin Lou Lou had the privilege of doing just that last Friday and Saturday nights!

Last Friday evening, Lou Lou and Sister left Papa and Little Bean at home in Yonder as they set out to visit the "Christmas" city of Dahlonga, Ga. Sister's birthday is Dec. 13th, and Lou Lou planned the trip as a part of Sister's birthday gift this year.

The trip included an overnight stay Friday night in Cumming, Ga., which is about 20 minutes south of Dahlonga, but it requires traveling through Atlanta to get there from Yonder. There is a way to avoid Atlanta, but that adds another hour-plus to the trip.

Lou Lou has driven in and around Atlanta on many occasions through the years, so, she doesn't really worry about all the traffic there. She just prefers the slower pace of traffic back in her beloved Yonder.

Upon reaching Atlanta on Friday night, the fog had set in pretty well, and that did not sit well with Sister from the vehicle's passenger seat. The multi-lane traffic already unnerves her a bit every time the Yonder gang makes a trip to or through Atlanta. A foggy night was even worse!

A few other travelers certainly should have received an uneasy feeling that someone, somewhere was talking ugly about them. That someone would have been Sister!

One vehicle flew by Sister's vehicle as Lou Lou navigated them through the big city, and Sister immediately began yelling at the other driver. She was scolded the driver for "going too fast" under foggy conditions.

By the time Lou Lou and Sister made it through Atlanta, Sister said she has clinched her cheeks so tight that her muscles were aching. Lou Lou did not dare ask for a better explanation on that one!

After a good, but rainy, day in Dahlonga on Saturday, Lou Lou and Sister came back through Atlanta on Saturday night. This time there was no fog, but the wet roads from rain and heavier traffic created a whole new set of tensions for Sister. She could be heard praying a few times for the Good Lord just to "get me out of this place!"

Sister said she could not imagine why anyone would desire to drive in that type of traffic any day, but especially every day in life.

At one point, when Sister instructed Lou Lou to find a lane and stay there [even though Lou Lou was having no trouble navigating the roadways], she asked Sister if she would like to drive. The very explicit answer boiled down to "not as long as we are in this place."

Sister came to the conclusion if she ever is the one driving on a trip, and it requires going through Atlanta that she would find an alternate route [no matter how much longer it takes] or simply stay home! Good thing Lou Lou is the designated driver for most trips anyway!

Despite the 'rough' times in the vehicle, it was a nice birthday trip for Sister! She even admitted it after returning home and getting some good snuggles from Little Bean.

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

This Christmas, why not give yourself?

by Paul Jackson, Pastor, Covenant Community Church, Elba, Alabama

Christmas is the favorite time of year for many of us, and understandably so. Family gatherings, festive parties, and gift-giving are enjoyable and special. But if you're like me, you've also experienced the frustration that comes with the secularization of Christmas and the frenzied pace we have to keep to get all the parties in and shopping done. The sad reality is that the deeper significance of Christmas is often lost amid such a dizzying pace.

This Christmas season, may I encourage you to slow down some, be more thoughtful about the pace you're trying to maintain, and spend time pondering the real meaning of that angelic proclamation made so long ago: "Do not be afraid. I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. Today...a Savior has been born to you; he is Christ the Lord" (Luke 2:10-11). Some years later, the Apostle Paul would call Jesus' birth a "great mystery" (1 Tim. 3:16).

Understanding a mystery takes time for reflection and discernment. Be honest. When was the last time you stopped and seriously considered the meaning of "incarnation," the taking on of flesh and blood of God's one and only Son, the pre-incarnate Word that the Apostle John writes about in his gospel (read John 1:1-4, 14)?

Admittedly, this is above my intellectual pay grade. I don't think it's something that we humans can fully comprehend—how deity can be merged with human nature, fully God and fully man all at the same time. Nonetheless, we can and should seek to understand this staggering mystery to the fullest extent possible. Why? It's simple: Incarnation is at the heart of what Christmas means: God entered our world as a human being! Quoting from Matthew's gospel, "The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel—which means, 'God with us'" (Mat. 1:22-23). Friend, take a moment to think about the implications of such "divine condescension."

In fact, the Apostle Paul seems to do just that in Philippians 2:5-11, his great hymn of praise to God for Jesus' coming to earth. He uses the incarnation as an example for believers to emulate: "Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus," he writes (vs. 5). So what was his attitude?

Notice these words in verses 6-8: "He didn't consider [think about] . . . made himself nothing . . . became a servant . . . humbled himself . . . and became obedient to death—even death on a cross."

Isn't it strange that God's entrance into our world—the first Christmas that happened more than 2000 years ago—was about giving up rights and privilege, self surrender and sacrifice, service to others and humility, and obedience and death, while our experiences of Christmas today seem . . . well, so different?

Perhaps it's time that we rediscover the dynamic truth of the very first Christmas: Be like Jesus! Give yourself away for the good of others. Think more about others than you do yourself. Just an idea for some not-too-late Christmas giving.

Semifinalists are now asked to complete Phase 2 applications, which include essays, a recommendation, and transcripts. An independent selection committee will review the applications and select 250 Regional Finalists by the end of January to participate in online interviews.

150 Coca-Cola Scholars will be named in March to receive a $20,000 college scholarship and participate in the Coca-Cola Scholars Leadership Development Institute facilitated by program alumni.

Ivey allots federal funds to assist low-income residents

Gov. Kay Ivey has awarded almost $2.8 million for programs that help lift low-income residents from poverty and become economically self-sufficient.

The Community Services Block Grants will be distributed to 18 community action agencies to provide services to eligible individuals and families in Alabama.

"On occasion, some Alabamians find themselves in dire economic situations and need assistance to get back on their feet," Gov. Ivey said. "The funds from this grant program will provide the needed boost to help them rise from those depths and improve their quality of life."

The agencies will use the funds for a range of programs including ones that teach the skills and knowledge to obtain jobs, help participants maintain the ability to stay in their homes and provide emergency assistance to prevent further declines in their lives. The types of assistance will be determined by the local agencies based on needs of their regions.

"ADECA is pleased to join with Gov. Ivey in this program that encourages people to reach their goals and lead successful lives," ADECA Director Kenneth Boswell said.

Charity During the Holiday Season

During the holiday season, many of us are left to ponder not just the grief that flares up during the holidays but also "items" those we have lost have left behind. While some pieces are important to keep as family heirlooms and other personal reminders of those that have passed on, many items can be donated to those in need.

Preparing items for donation can be difficult. It makes you sort through the personal effects of someone you have lost and reexamine that person's life as they lived. This process may even bring up aspects of your loved one's life that you were not aware of.

Organization and taking your time are the best ways to cope with some of the negative feelings associated with cleaning out the artifacts left behind by those we've loved and lost. Reach out for help from family when possible, they often should be involved in the process of deciding what stays or goes. If that is not possible, the support of friends can help make the process a little less emotionally taxing, as well.

Donating items no longer needed can help to ease the physical burden that loss can add to one's life while also giving back to help make someone else's life a little easier. Large items like furniture, extra clothing, some electronics, and other pieces can be donated to charities if they are in good condition. Organizations like Goodwill or other local religious organizations will likely be able to take them. Many of these organizations will even help you haul away large items or numerous donations.

Additionally, if you are planning a service for a lost loved one, you can request that in lieu of flowers a donation be made to a charity or cause the deceased was closely affiliated with. Many organizations will accept donations in honor of someone who has passed on and those dollars will help those affected by similar conditions and ease the burden that illness puts on other families.

Donating to others during the holidays can help brighten the lives of families in need while also providing a tangible way to work through the pain of loss.

Reflections

by Michael J. Brooks, Pastor

Christmas Means God Is With Us

I decided to attend graduate school before moving to Kentucky for theological study. My college friends and I bade farewell in December, and in January I moved to Auburn University—my home for the next 18 months. Though on a campus of 25,000 students, I didn't know a soul and felt very alone. It was not a pleasant time those first weeks.

Novelist John Steinbeck wrote, "We are lonesome animals, who spend all of our lives trying to be less lonesome."

Our nation is plagued with loneliness. We've seen an increase in working remotely during the COVID-19 era. Many of those I know who work from home enjoy the convenience and don't miss their commute, but it's also true they become more isolated from workmates. One study found among "Gen Z"—those who are 21-26 years old—one half reported loneliness. Though more connected electronically than previous generations, "Gen Z" has been called "the loneliest generation." One-third of high school seniors said they "often feel lonely."

Many older people feel alone, abandoned by friends and family. Great Britain established the "Silver Line" network through which senior adults craving contact can call and talk with others.

We feel alone when sick or facing disease or surgery. We suffer alone in our pain.

Lonely people must take initiative and welcome others into their lives. We find nourishment in community groups, civic clubs and Bible study classes. One lady reported she joined a quilting club in order to teach others her skills. In a short while she found participants not only growing in skills, but lonely participants making new friends.

Lonely people may feel forsaken by God. In "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner," Coleridge wrote, "So lonely 'twas that God himself scarce seemed there to be." But there's no place on earth where God is not. We may feel alone because we build walls between ourselves and God, but we aren't alone. God doesn't cease caring for us. He made a way for our offense to be covered. The prophet Isaiah wrote, "We all went astray like sheep; we all have turned to our own way; and the Lord has punished him for the iniquity of us all" (Isaiah 53:6).

One of the messages of Christmas is that God took the initiative to deal with our loneliness. He sent his son whose name is Emmanuel, or "God with us." God loved us enough to come to us as one we could see, touch and relate to. As a little girl said, "Jesus is a God with skin on!"

Now God invites everyone to come to him through Christ, the bridge by which we cross the abyss of sin and enter God's family.

Reflections is a weekly devotional column written by Michael J. Brooks, pastor of the Siluria Baptist Church in Alabaster, Ala. The church's website is siluriabaptist.com.

Pardon! The U.S. President has nearly unchecked power to issue official pardons. This makes the pardon one of the most controversial presidential powers. Though this presidential power can be divisive, in some instances it has been used to heal wounds.

One of the most controversial presidential pardons was issued by President Gerald Ford. Richard Nixon, Ford's predecessor, resigned from office in August 1974 amid accusations of criminal behavior. After that resignation, Nixon could have been prosecuted and even jailed. Yet weeks later, President Ford pardoned the former president of any federal crimes he had "committed or taken part in" during his term in office. Today many agree that Ford's pardon was necessary to help the nation move forward from an era of scandal and abuse of power. Pardons are not justice. Rather, they are acts of undeserved mercy. When the treasonous Israelites rebelled against God, they deserved an outpouring of his wrath. Moses, acting as a defense attorney for his people, convinced, pleaded for and received mercy. Ultimately, God's forgiveness of sin is based on the fact that Christ has made forgiveness possible because he took our penalty upon himself at the cross. What difference does God's pardon make in your life? — J.E.

Governor awards grant funds to help abused/neglected children in state

Gov. Kay Ivey awarded grants totaling $4.8 million across Alabama to help provide services to child victims of abuse, neglect and sexual assault as well as provide training and resources to local law enforcement and nonprofit agencies.

The grants will help many nonprofit organizations provide services including forensic interviews, mental health services, medical services referrals, advocacy, community education and prevention services.

"Young victims deserve to have the same professional services and help given to them as adult victims," Gov. Ivey said. "I commend these agencies that work daily to help those who have been harmed and work to prevent further abuse."

The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs is administering the grants from funds made available by the U.S. Department of Justice.

The grants awarded to various local and state agencies who provide direct services to victims and providers include $109,440 to Pike Regional Child Advocacy Center serving Barbour, Bullock, Coffee, Pike Counties.

Governor Ivey reinforces highway safety in awarding grant funds across state

Governor Kay Ivey, in an effort to reinforce highway safety across Alabama, has awarded nearly $7 million in grants. These efforts are aimed at making Alabama roads safer by preventing injuries and fatalities while also ensuring that offenders are prosecuted.

The state's four regional traffic safety offices and the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency will use the funds to cover overtime for local police officers, sheriffs' deputies and state troopers conducting extra patrols and checkpoints during peak travel times, like major holidays, targeting speeding, seat belt violations and impaired driving. Funding will cover major enforcement details like "Click It or Ticket" and "Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over."

"In Alabama, we are funding our law enforcement community to ensure their efforts to protect our communities are supported," said Governor Ivey. "These grants will go a long way in reinforcing highway safety across our state. As we head into another peak travel time, that will be even more important. Ensuring public safety is one of the primary responsibilities of government and is a top priority for the Ivey Administration."

The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs is administering the grants from funds made available to the state by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

"ADECA stands with Governor Ivey, the four highway safety offices and local law enforcement agencies who are helping make Alabama's roads safer for everyone traveling in our state," said ADECA Director Kenneth Boswell.

Locally, Governor Ivey awarded $1.21 million for the Southeast Alabama Regional Highway Safety Office at Enterprise State Community College. The office serves Autauga, Barbour, Bibb, Bullock, Butler, Coffee, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Geneva, Henry, Houston, Lowndes, Montgomery, Pike, Russell and Tuscaloosa counties.

ADECA manages a wide array of programs that support law enforcement and traffic safety, workforce development, energy conservation, water resource management, economic development and recreation.

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson headed back out to do a little Christmas shopping over the weekend and whispered to me what his Mom wanted from Santa. I have yet to buy one single gift and realize Christmas is less than two weeks away, but I think the stores will all stay open a little later in the days to come and predict I will come through with flying colors.

For what it is worth....

*** It was a wasted weekend for the Elba Tigers and Lady Tigers as both teams competed in a tournament up in Brantley and both teams came home without a win. The Tigers were off and running after their first two games and were ranked ninth in the state, but were simply no match for 2A power Calhoun and then saw a halftime lead vanish in a loss to Luverne. While everyone knew the top-ten ranking probably wouldn't last, many of us thought it may last more than just one week. I still think the Tigers will win more than share of games and will only get better and better as the season rolls along. As for the Lady Tigers, the Elba girls are still a work in progress and as Coach Shaun Hammonds always tells us "every week is just a new chapter in the story of the season." The Lady Tigers are very young, don't have a lot of scorers and will have to be aggressive on defense to turn turnovers into points if they hope to be a contender. However, like Coach Hammonds says the book on the season is far from finished.

*** I am not a sports historian, but I have to believe that history had to be made last week when the Elba Tigers and Zion Chapel Rebels were both ranked in the state sportswriters poll. Elba has been ranked in the past before its recent struggles, while Zion Chapel has been absent from the list for a very long time. I know the season is still young and things change, but at least for one week Elba and Zion Chapel were among the elite in the Class 2A ranks.

*** The high school basketball season is going full speed and so far it has already been quite a season for the teams in the area. ** The New Brockton Gamecocks are off to a slow start with a 2-3 record, but have proven they can play solid on defense and if they can be more consistent on the offensive end could be a team to keep an eye on in weeks to come. As for the Lady Gamecocks, the 'Brockton girls are winless after five games and must find a way to score more points if wins are going to come. ** The Kinston Bulldogs are off to an 0-8 start, but once they get a win I look for the 'Dogs to catch fire and surprise some folks. The Lady Bulldogs split their opening four games and have a team that can win on any given night. ** The Zion Chapel Rebels are 8-4 and jumped into the 2A poll last week, but have dropped two of their last three games and must learn to deal with success. The Lady Rebels have won two of their last four games, and while they have struggled at times, may be better than we know. ** The Brantley Bulldogs are off and running and appear determined to make some noise in the 1A ranks, while the Lady Bulldogs are only getting better and better and could develop into a dangerous team as the season rolls along.

*** While I am sure many Enterprise football fans were a little disappointed last week with the sudden resignation of head coach Rick Darlington, I am guessing just as many were glad to see the three-year Wildcat coach head back to the Sunshine State. Darlington brought his run-happy offense to Enterprise after a successful career in Florida, and while he did help upgrade the field and football facilities for the 7A Wildcats, the fact he had a big six-figure contract and brought with him two assistants that also had six-figure salaries never really sat well with many fans. His arrival was supposed to bring with it a return to the winning ways of the past. However, he was only able to lead Enterprise to a lackluster 20-14 record, and his teams struggled in the region and struggled to a 1-9 record against the region's three power brokers (Central, Phenix City, Auburn and Prattville). I am not sure of the powers to be in Enterprise will make a return to the 'Wildcat Family' for its next head coach, but the last experiment didn't exactly work.

*** In closing.... The Alabama High School Athletic Association released its reclassifications for the 2022-2024 athletic seasons this week, and while I am writing this column days before the big announcement, my sources have Elba dropping back down to Class 1A, Andalusia dropping down to Class 4A, Wicksburg moving down to Class 2A, Samson moving back up to Class 2A, Eufaula dropping down to Class 5A, Rehobeth moving up to Class 6A, Ashford moving down to Class 3A, and Goshen moving down to Class 2A. Some of the new region alignments are quite interesting and will bring with them a lot of travel, but I will wait until it is all official before we look that far ahead.

Tigers tumble

The Elba Tigers competed in the Brantley Invitational Basketball Tournament last week and saw their early-season winning streak come to an abrupt end as they lost twice to watch their record slip to 2-2.

Following is a recap of tournament action:

Calhoun 80 Elba 33

The Elba Tigers ran into a buzz-saw from Calhoun in the opening round and never threatened in an 80-33 loss.

Elba had a hard time finding its way to the basket in the opening quarter and trailed 22-5 heading into the second quarter. Kindarius Hill and Trent Hamilton both drained long 3-pointers in the second stanza as the Tigers tried to battle back, but Elba went 0-5 at the free throw line in the period and watched as Calhoun opened up a 45-15 halftime advantage.

Elba continued its struggles from the free throw line in the third quarter as a 3-9 performance helped Calhoun stretch its lead to 67-22 with one quarter left on the scoreboard. Zaydrian Daniels poured in eight points in the fourth quarter as the Tigers battled until the final buzzer. However, Calhoun never slowed down and handed Elba the lopsided 80-33 win.

Zaydrian Daniels scored 8 points and Kindarius Hill added 6 to lead Elba, while Tederius Scott scored 20 points and Tyler Robertson added 19 for Calhoun.

Calhoun (80): Lewis 11, Means 11, Edwards 3, T. Scott 20, Scott 11, Moorer 2, Managan 1, Robertson 19, Cook 2.

Elba (33): Hill 6, Burks 3, Hamilton 3, Peterson 4, Henderson 4, Daniels 8.

Luverne 46 Elba 33

The Elba Tigers saw the wheels come off the wagon in the fourth quarter in a disappointing 46-33 loss to Luverne.

Elba came out ready to play in the Saturday matinee and pulled out to a 9-7 first quarter lead despite missing 6 of 12 free-throw opportunities, and while the Tigers connected on only 3 of 9 free-throws in the second quarter, they managed to retain the lead and carried a 21-17 lead in at the half.

Luverne rallied in the third quarter to sneak ahead 31-30 heading into the final stanza, and then pulled away as Elba scored only three points in the fourth quarter and watched as Luverne posted the 46-33 win.

Zaydrian Daniels scored 11 points and Chayse Peterson added 8 to lead Elba, while L. Jordan led Luverne with 9 points.

Luverne (46): Harris 7, Foster 5, Jordan 9, Nelson 3, D. Smith 4, Smith 8, Johnson 6, Jones 4.

Elba (33): Hill 3, Coleman 2, Burks 5, Marek 2, Peterson 8, Henderson 2, Daniels 11.

Lady Tigers drop two

The Elba Lady Tigers competed in the Brantley Invitational Basketball Tournament last week and saw their early-season record slip to 2-2 with a pair of double-digit losses.

Following are highlights of the tournament action:

Luverne 62 Elba 48

The Elba Lady Tigers fell behind early and never caught up in a 62-48 opening round loss to Luverne.

Nina Williams nailed a pair of 3-pointers in the opening quarter to help keep the Lady Tigers within striking distance at 15-9, and while freshman A'Lyric Whitfield scored seven second quarter points, it wasn't enough as Luverne never slowed down and outscored Elba 21-11 to open up a 36-20 halftime advantage.

Williams and Whitfield combined for 12 points in the third quarter as the Lady Tigers crept back within 46-34. However, Luverne regained command in the final stanza to put the finishing touches on the 62-48 win.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 22 points and Nina Williams added 20 to lead Elba, while Khashyia Richardson scored 15 points and Aniyah Burnett added 14 to lead Luverne.

Luverne (62): Richardson 15, Johnson 2, Roper 4, Suddith 10, Pressley 10, Thompson 2, Peterson 5, Burnett 14.

Elba (48): Tinsley 2, Williams 20, Purvis 2, Whitfield 22, Juarez 2.

Brantley 52 Elba 40

The Elba Lady Tigers fell behind early and saw a fourth quarter rally fall far short in a 52-40 loss to the Brantley Lady Bulldogs.

Two free throws by A'Lyric Whitfield were the only points Elba could put on the scoreboard in the opening quarter, while Brantley had no such problem as Annah Little drained four 3-pointers to help the Lady Bulldogs grab an early 14-2 lead. Alayvia Stinson hit a 3-pointer to wake up the Lady Tiger offense in the second quarter. However, Lady Bulldog Kayden Dunn dominated inside and scored eight points as Brantley went in at the half with a 24-10 advantage.

Nina Williams and A'Lyric Whitfield combined for three 3-pointers and 13 points in the third quarter as Elba tried to rally, but Brantley never lost command and poured in 16 points in the stanza to stretch its lead to 40-23. Williams and Kendra Juarez led the Lady Tigers in the final quarter and battled until the final buzzer; however, Brantley was in control and rolled to the big win.

Nina Williams scored 19 points and A'Lyric Whitfield added 9 to lead the Lady Tigers, while Annah Little scored 19 points to lead Brantley, followed by Kayden Dunn with 17 and Kalaiya Dixon with 13.

B'ley (52): Dixon 13, Little 19, Barginere 1, Oliver 2, Dunn 17.

Elba (40): Williams 19, Whitfield 9, Moore 2, Stinson 6, Juarez 4.

CALDWELL SIGNS.... Elba Tiger football standout Chrystyle Caldwell (center) made it official last week when he signed to continue his career at the University of South Alabama. Elba's Caldwell signs to continue football career at South Alabama

Christmas came early for Elba Tiger football stand-out Chrystyle Caldwell last Thursday afternoon in front of his family, friends, fans and coaches when he held a signing ceremony to accept a football scholarship to the University of South Alabama, in Mobile.

Caldwell, who will make it official this week while in Mobile to compete in the AHSAA annual North-South high school all-star game, stated he wanted to hold the early-signing to share the experience with those in his hometown.

"This is like celebrating a birthday," said Caldwell, "and I wanted to share this special day with so many people that have meant so much to me. I am excited to sign to attend South Alabama, and am also excited to share this moment with so many of my family, friends, teammates, coaches and supporters. I want to thank so many people for showing up, especially my grandfather, who is the Dad I never had and has always been there to help me, and of course my Mom, who always did whatever it took to make sure I was able to grow into a man and did her best to give me everything I needed to be successful in everything I did. All of this despite being a single Mom."

Elba Tiger head coach Marc Sieving told the large gathering "I could stand here and impress you with his statistics and tell you what an outstanding football player he is and will be in college, but I believe it is more important to tell you the impact he has had on our program and the players in the program, and the impact his family, friends, coaches and supporters have had on him. This is an exciting day and one that he wanted to share with all of you."

"I have no regrets in my decision to attend South Alabama," added Caldwell. "I feel I made the right decision for me. I have been committed to South Alabama for a long time, and while I could have changed my commitment and signed with other colleges, I knew all along this was where I was going. There are a lot of good things happening at South Alabama in its program and I wanted to be a part of it."

Elba's Chrystyle Caldwell will play Friday, Dec. 17, in the AHSAA annual North-South football game in Mobile, Ala. As a member of the South All-Star team, Caldwell will play Defensive End/Linebacker. Kickoff for the game is 7 p.m. at Hancock Whitney Stadium.
